MENTORING PROGRAM UPDATE 2020-2021 ACADEMIC YEAR

A NEW NORMAL

During the past few months, Eye to Eye has witnessed the success of new, innovative ways that we have adapted our programming to support students now. We are keenly aware that students who learn differently are impacted by this new normal, and we are actively developing revised programming that will have an even greater impact on the students we serve.

PROGRAM UPDATES

POSTPONING PROGRAM LAUNCH

After carefully listening to the needs of our school partners and engaging with administrators and leaders, Eye to Eye is postponing the launch of our mentoring program to mid-year. This will give schools, students, and educators time to adjust to in-person learning and enable Eye to support schools during this transition.

YOUNG LEADERS ORGANIZING INSTITUTE GOES VIRTUAL

Because of this shift in our mentoring program launch to mid-year, and coupled with guidance against large group gatherings at Brown University, the training for student leaders and advisors will now take place virtually starting in November, and we will host a national virtual Organizing Institute from January 16-18, 2021. The virtual OI will focus on community-building, leadership development, and service.

DELIVERING MORE RESOURCES AND SUPPORT

Even though our in-person mentoring programming and training will be postponed, Eye to Eye will continue to provide virtual engagements and interventions to support our entire community. We are expanding upon our virtual art rooms, and accelerating our teacher training model to be relevant to all educators administrators, and support staff within a school community.

TIMELINE

While our mentoring program and the Young Leaders Organizing Institute will look different in this next program year, our commitment to meet the emerging needs of our community remains our goal.
