Re: Presidential Inauguration Trip 2017

From: Courtenay Tessler and Kevin Williams

Kevin and I took 64 students to President Obama's first inauguration. We are preparing to take another group of students to the Presidential Inauguration in 2017.

We start the process now to give students adequate time to fundraise. We will hold our first parent/student meeting on May 20 at 7 pm in the DSHS Library. We will be inviting current 10th and 11th grade students.

We will be traveling once again with EF Explore America. We have total confidence in traveling with them. They put us up in good hotels; have a security guard who sits in the hallway every night; give us our own tour guide and bus driver; and do an amazing job of showing us Washington D.C. plus the inauguration in 4 days.

We are excited to give our students this opportunity to learn first-hand about our political system.

Attached is the trip request form, information from EF Explore America about costs, copy of the itinerary, and a copy of my CPR certificate, which expires in 2016. I will get it renewed and Kevin will also make sure his is up to date. I will give you a copy of the behavior contract along with a list of students at a later date.

Please let me know if you need anything further to approve this trip.

Thanks,

Courtenay Tessler

Inauguration Day

Marking the commencement of a new four-year term of a president of the United States, Inauguration Day was originally on March 4, four months after Election Day. Today, it's January 20. During Inauguration Day, your students will be part of all the Inauguration events—such as the inaugural address, parade and ball.

Inaugural Ball

Ever since George Washington took office in 1789, there's been a presidential inaugural ball. Give your students a taste of what the president experiences with an inaugural ball of their own—complete with dinner and dancing. They'll join other EF Explore America travelers from around the country to celebrate the presidential inauguration in their nation's capital and continue a tradition that's almost as old as our country itself.
