Program Advisor

Program Advisors are school staff who volunteer to serve as champions and ambassadors for the program at your school site. This is a commitment of no more than 1.5 hours per week, and is typically a general or special education teacher, learning specialist, psychologist, paraeducator, or afterschool program coordinator who is passionate about art, mentoring, and who works directly with students who learn differently. The Program Advisor responsibilities are securing a classroom for the weekly art room, helping recruit students by promoting the program to students, families, and school staff, and communicating with Eye to Eye staff regarding any feedback, issues, and ideas for improving the program.

Eye to Eye Mentoring Program

Mentee School Renewal Form

2018-19 School Year School Deadline: April 30, 2018

Thank you for being a part of our network of more than 120 schools across the country who are empowering students with learning and attention issues through Eye to Eye's art-based, afterschool Mentoring Program! Thousands of students over the past two decades are living proof of the effectiveness of the program – with multiple independent studies confirming significant improvement in social and emotional skills crucial to persisting through high school and successfully transitioning to college or career.

Specifically, the program has demonstrated direct improvement in self-esteem, grit, resiliency, metacognition, attitude towards school, response to failure, hope for the future, and self-advocacy (among others), as well as increased awareness and utilization of resources and available accommodations. Our art projects are designed to spark meaningful conversations between the 5th to 8th grade students with ADHD and/or learning disabilities (such as dyslexia and processing disorders), and their high school and college student mentors with similar labels.

For questions or more information, email me at kwalls@eyetoeyenational.org or call (917) 755-3185 anytime.

We look forward to working with you again this upcoming school year!
